Powell County People and Her Banks.

The last report of the Clay City National Bank shows $141,108.81, on deposit, and on December 31st the report of the Powell County Deposit Bank shows $72,341.55, making a total deposit in the two Powell county banks of $231,450.36. Powell county has a population of 6,443 according to the last government census, counting 5 members to the family, which is the average, there are 1,288 families. We find then that there is for each family in the county deposited in the banks of the county a fraction over $165.50. A real nice little sum for a rainy day. And for each man, woman and child in the county there is $33.12. This sum is far above the average of Kentucky counties and shows that our people are not so poor after all. Besides the showing made above, many of the business firms doing business in the county have accounts with banks out of the county, and so have some of our citizens. There is also several thousand dollars carried around in our farmers' jeans that is never placed in any bank. So upon the whole Powell county people are not yet paupers, and have the cash to buy up several thousand more acres of bluegrass land like they have been doing in the past.

Local Option Election Valid.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed Judge Benton's decision in the Tom Cole case which means that the local option election in this county is held valid with no further appeal to be made. Tom Cole was indicted for selling whiskey in Powell county after local option was in force. His defense was that the local option was illegal, so proof was admitted to show wherein the election was illegal. The defense claimed that whereas a special registration was not held in Clay City and Stanton to provide means for voters to get certificates where they had been lost, deprived many voters of participating in the election, therefore making it illegal. Judge Benton sustained the election as has the Court of Appeals. This settles the controversy and Powell county in full is local option.

Must Answer Seven Charges.

Will Heather who sold whiskey to a number of persons in Clay City last week, mention of which was made in our last issue, was caught in Lexington and brought to Stanton Monday for trial. He was released on $300 bond to appear for trial again Saturday. There are seven cases against him, and the least penalty in each case will be $20. This will make not less than $140 for the offender's experiment in a local option town.

Stringent Liquor Laws.

The Mt. Sterling City Council has passed an ordinance to keep minors out of saloons in Mt. Sterling. A penalty of $10 to $20 is fixed for allowing minors to enter a saloon, and the minor is fined the same amount if he enters. The measure was adopted because so many boys have been True Friendship.

Much of the so-called friendship of the day is but pretense.
It exists only in name and as soon as it ceases to be advantageous it is dropped. The friendship that continues the same in prosperity and adversity is to be prized, but all other kinds are worthless. It matters not how hard a man may struggle to do right and make a success of life
there is always some loathsome reptile, some worthless wretch
who is ready to drag him down, to blight his hopes and blast his fondest ambitions. The loss of money and property is not the greatest loss a man can sustain in the business world; far better to lose your money than to lose hope and ambition.

SPOUT SPRING.

Shelt McKinney visited relatives about Pilot View several days last week.

S. D. Ewell, of Lexington, was here Monday and Tuesday to visit relatives.

Asa Todd has been below several days this week looking after the purchase of a bluegrass farm.

Mr. Josie Charles who has been here visiting her mother, has returned to her home near Jackson.

J. W. McKinney, of Clark county, was here this week and bought several hogs at five and one half cents.

W. J. Christopher, Jr., left one day last week for Cincinnati, where after a few weeks stay, he intends to leave for Texas.

Mrs. Emily Jane Crow is very sick at her home near this place from complication of diseases and her recovery is hardly expected.

Pastor R. B. Wilson assisted by Rev. T. R. Roberts will hold a protracted meeting at Jackson's Chapel beginning Sunday, Jan. 20.

Marion McKinney is building an addition to the former residence of his father and will move into this property when completed.

The heirs of James F. McKinney have sold to Joe McKinney 350 acres of land on the east side of the road for $3,250 and to Moses and Shelton McKinney 250 acres on the west side of the road for $2,250.

It has been several weeks since the river at Walters' Ferry has been fordable, and there are no signs of the stream getting down again soon. So often is this the case that it now seems time to start a movement to get a bridge here. The channel of the stream here is very narrow which causes the ford to be deeper than at other places. The narrow channel, however, is more favorable for the construction of a bridge, as a much narrower span will answer the purpose, and come much cheaper. We know of three persons who offer to give $100.00 each on subscription toward the erection of a bridge here and there are others who will render material aid. It seems to us that it is now time to start the ball.

Chairman R. H. Winn, District Chairman, and the Republican committee has called a convention to meet in Mt. Sterling April 24 to nominate candidate for Railroad Commissioner in this the 3rd district. County mass conventions will be held at county seats April 20.

BACK HOME IN KENTUCKY.

BY FLORENCE N. STRONG.

I sit by the lonely window,
And look to the hills far away.
Over the beautiful grassy meadows,
That glow with the flowers of May.

I long for a scene of the mountains,
That guards my birth-place and my home,
Oh! beautiful gorgeous mountains!
There is no beauty like your own.

Fresh breezes steal in at my window
Like the whispers of loved ones far away.

And tell me back home in Kentucky,
Our horses are still winning the day.

That the women are just as lovely
As has ever been born—
Some equal the "Malo Venas,"
In beauty, grace and form.

And as the lights and the shadows,
With the passing moments change,
Comes many a scene of beauty,
Within my vision range.

Kentucky! the paradise of Eden,
Whose name is ever heralded—
The home of fast horses and pretty women—
The garden spot of the world.

The dearest thoughts thus awakened,
That soul and heart ever gave;
Is the birth-place of Abe Lincoln,
The emancipator of the slave.

Most great men of our nation,
Were born upon our land,
And in the halls of Congress,
They always took the stand.

Our orators were just the grandest,
That reigned throughout the land.
There was Breckinridge and Lincoln,
A standing hand in hand.

Back home, where they drink the Bottle of Nelsa,
My thoughts are backward cast.
I sit by the open window
And recall the faded past.

No golden syllables can sing the melodies
Of thy heart;
Ah! the sonnets they gather and bring me from rivulet meadow and hill.
Comes with a touching cadence,
And my throbbing bosom fill.

I strive to tell thee of the land,
That makes the music of my heart and soul.
Kentucky! A land where holy silence
breathes,
And wakes, and that must speak the whole.

We notice that several of the courts have decided that trusts cannot collect debts due them because, being organized, to restrict trade, they are illegal combinations without standing before the law. This seems to hit the frauds "right where they live." It will force them to either quit entirely or do business on a strictly cash basis. Perhaps these judges have found the real solution of the trust problem. They should be treated as outlaws.

The President, in his recent message, urges the adoption of inheritance and income taxes as part of our revenue system, and these in time, are sure to be adopted. Meantime the topheavy schedules of the Dingley tariff law may be leveled off without any harm being done to anybody except those who "sit at the receipt of customs."

Start the New Year right by buying your groceries at Anderson's Cut Rate Grocery.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is, by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it is the most popular, most thoroughly revised in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation.

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly revised in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future it will be the source of constant reference.

Mrs. James Walters died at her home on Black-creek Monday of consumption after a lingering illness. Mrs. Walters was an inmate of the asylum for several months a few years ago, but had recovered.

It seems that we never saw so much rain as has fallen this winter, and it has been very warm the greater part of the time, what seems to be very unhealthy weather. In the first two weeks of January there has been two inches more rainfall than the average for the whole month heretofore.

Stick to the Farm, Boys.

An exchange says the Elyria Democrat offers a few suggestions to the young man who is inclined to leave the farm and wander off into the city. The paper notes that the time will shortly come when "the old man" will be worn out and you will have to take his place and raise a living for those who go to the city. On the farm you are independent and lord and master of all you survey. In the work shop you are shut up in smoke and noise and under the rule and control of others from beginning of the day to the close. The farmer's life is an independent life; he goes when he pleases; his table is loaded with the best the farm produces; not in scant supply but in abundance, and the surplus is loaded onto the wagon and sold for a good price. And there is another point that must not be overlooked. The farmer's surroundings make up a paradise of beauty, song birds, wild flowers, trees and domestic animals, all of which contribute to his pleasure and happiness. His farm is his theater, and his domestic animals his horses, his cattle, his sheep, his pigs are the actors; his fields are the stage and the song birds make up his orchestra. Young men don't forsake the farm.

Where is the man so happy as the one who applies himself to manual labor? Where is the home so happy as the one where each member of the household feels, at the close of the day, that they have performed some at least of the many duties devolving upon them? There may be a clash some day between capital and labor. Should this period ever come, the hope is that labor, with the conquering tread of a hero, will trample beneath its heel the power that has, to a considerable extent, made labor laborious. We are all laborers in our little city.

The thought that "no one cares and no one knows" blights many a bud of promise. Be it the young artist at the easel, the workman at his bench, the boy at his mathematical problems or your little girl at the piano, give what praise you can.
